

Membership Chair Lauren Sager Weinstein Head of Oyster Development, Transport for London

Lauren Sager Weinstein is Head of Oyster Development at Transport for London (TfL), the integrated body responsible for the Capital's transport system. Oyster is London's contactless smartcard ticketing system for travel on the bus, Tube, tram, DLR, and London Overground. Ms. Sager Weinstein is responsible for development opportunities for Oyster, which is the largest contactless smartcard system in Europe. She also manages the TfL Finance/University Research Partnerships created to provide TfL with strong analytic tools for policy decisions. Previously, she served as Chief of Staff, Finance and Planning and was responsible for the Finance & Planning Department's business plan and for departmental performance. Prior to TfL, she worked for a Los Angeles City Council Member as a Field and Planning Deputy. She also worked at RAND as a Research Assistant, providing analysis to the State of California Workers' Compensation Board and to the US Department of Defense. She completed a Master's Degree at the John F. Kennedy School of Government, and completed her undergraduate education at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School.